from The Commodore

The ice is gone! The season is here!
The waiting is over, now the work begins!!
It seems there are some who even enjoy this part of boating.

Our first event of the year, the February Social Evening was a great success and I hope everyone will be able to join us for the Wine & Cheese Evening on May 12. Your cruise, race and hospitality committees are planning what promises to be the best summer yet for CBYC.

While on holidays, Bill and I spent a thoroughly enjoyable evening at the Hawaii Yacht Club where we exchanged ideas with the commodore and burgees for the club. Although not many of us are likely to use their docking facilities, we were made most welcome as land visitors.

Judy

RACING

SCENE

Your race committee would like to welcome you to the C.B.Y.C. 1984 smorgasbord of racing activity with another call for participation. During previous seasons we have had an encouraging level of participation in both Thursday evening and weekend races with each skipper and crew member, whether serious or "out for the fun," apparently enjoying this time out on the water in their own particular, and maybe on occasion one might say peculiar, manner. We realise that it may feel like too much of an effort to rush down to the boat immediately after leaving work on Thursday evenings and it may require a change in that accepted routine but the therapy of being out on the lake with friends usually makes it very much worthwhile. So, even if you have not raced before but enjoy sailing, or if at anytime you feel down and in need of what would otherwise be expensive therapy, or just feel lonely and in need of friendly crew call your C.B.Y.C. lonely hearts columnist at-----no, members with any interest at all in racing, even those feeling competitive, please call me, Gord Unsworth 389-9260 or talk with any members of our racing committee.

See you all at the Wine and Cheese Party where we will show you, among other things, our new course marker system with all of its advantages suitably enhanced by Brights best.

Your Race Committee wishes all members a pleasurable and, at times, stimulating 1984 sailing season.

The first race of the Thursday night Spring series will be on 24th May.

From the Editor

Launching day is quickly approaching this year and our club will be more active and bigger than ever.

A lot of our members have not yet renewed their 1984 membership. The sooner we receive all the information the sooner we can put out our 1984 Roster. We would like to get the Roster out to you by the middle of June.

We had our first Social and General meeting on February 25th, at the R.C.A.F. Club. About 60 members turned out for an enjoyable evening.

Our Commodore, Judy Adams introduced our new Executive Committee for the 1984 season. Following that a slide show and movie (Bill Worthy's) of some of last year's events was shown.

One last note if you have any news, advertising or adventures to share with our members I would be very happy to publish them in the newsletter.

Desiree Kruger
